
Welcome to Kleyer 90[®]

The “Campus Kleyer” complex, with “Kleyer 90” at the very heart of it, is Europe’s largest and most important network node for the interconnection of telecom and data communication networks. It is one of the world’s top telecom industry addresses and serves as a national and international hub for connections between regions, countries and continents. As a registered trademark, “Kleyer 90” also stands for the unique product and service philosophy of ancotel GmbH at its headquarters in Frankfurt am Main. ancotel is also globally active, with representation in London, Hong Kong and New York. “Kleyer 90” serves as the ideal marketplace for carriers, Internet service providers, broadcasters and public institutions to develop their forward-looking businesses.

Expertise and good services are the key to success in a service society. The most important asset of our ever-growing company is its more than 90 highly motivated and committed employees who, between them, speak more than 20 different native languages.

We currently have a “minijob” (400 euros) vacancy as a:

Facility Manager (f/m)

Your responsibilities will include minor manual repairs such as painting walls, fixing false floors and carrying out visual checks of air-conditioning equipment. You will also take care of our fleet of vehicles.

Basic prerequisites for the post

You have very good handiwork skills and a valid driving licence (cat. B). You have preferably completed an apprenticeship as a bricklayer, painter/decorator or metalworker, or have some similar professional training. You are also flexible in terms of your working hours and have gathered previous experience in a similar job. You have an excellent command of German, thus allowing you to communicate confidently and skilfully with both internal and external individuals. Your personality is rounded off by an independent and precise approach to your work, and by good social skills, flexibility and the ability to work in a team.
